BIO:

Krzysztof Głuch is a pianist, producer, and arranger who has been active on the music scene for over 40 years. He co-founded the iconic bands Pick Up Formation and Young Power, which featured artists such as Tomasz Stańko and Michał Urbaniak. He has recorded more than 40 albums, collaborating with numerous ensembles and creators from the jazz and blues scenes. In 2012, he decided to channel his decades of experience into forming his own original band.

Oscillate is an eclectic space where improvisation forms the foundation and melodies are woven from elusive structures. Their character is emphasized by the expressive timbre of Agnieszka Łapka's voice, an integral part of the composer's artistic vision. The lineup also includes representatives of the younger generation of musicians, who have not only mastered their craft but also demonstrate a deep understanding of the idea of open music that they collectively strive to cultivate.
